Government of India

SHRI NARENDRA MODI
HON'BLE PRIME MINISTER OF INDIA

The textiles industry has a pivotal position in the Indian economy. It is strong and competitive across the value chain. India has an abundant supply of raw material like wool, cotton, silk, jute and man-made fibre. India has strong spinning, weaving, knitting and apparel manufacturing capacities. The textile industry will have to constantly innovate and research for growth and to tap new markets. Based on Make In India, the textile industry is being infused with the mantras of 'skill, scale, speed' and 'zero-defect, zero-effect'.

The spectrum of Indian textiles is extremely diverse and its history is world-renowned. Textile is not just an industry, but also a tradition and a legacy which we present to the world through the magic of India's handicrafts and machines. In the growth of the textiles sector lies the growth of India and the growth of job opportunities.

SMT. SMRITI IRANI
HON'BLE MINISTER OF TEXTILES OF INDIA

We want to make Gujarat once again a Manchester of the East and become number one in textiles. Gujarat already has large spinning capacity; adding weaving and garmenting would make it possible to achieve the complete textiles and apparel value chain. Our aim is to provide employment to women and create investment opportunities in the complete value chain from cotton to fabric to clothing.

SHRI VIJAY RUPANI
HON'BLE CHIEF MINISTER OF GUJARAT

Gujarat is the largest producer of cotton in the country, but most of our cotton goes out of Gujarat. We aim to devise such policies that promote ginning, spinning, processing and ready-made garment making. This will help the farmers get better value of their cotton production.

SHRI NITIN PATEL
HON'BLE DEPUTY CHIEF MINISTER OF GUJARAT

There are a lot of opportunities in the Textile Sector as it is one of the highest employing sectors in India. Textile Sector is close to my heart. Government of Gujarat is making all efforts to make Gujarat as a major garment hub. If the garment sector receives a boost, there will be greater consumption, resulting in greater utilisation of Gujarat's cotton and man-made fibres, giving weaving sector a boost. Hence when the garment sector moves, it will take along the entire value chain from Farm to Fashion.

Dr. J.N. SINGH, IAS
CHIEF SECRETARY, GOVERNMENT OF GUJARAT

INDIA

The gateway to endless

A RICH PAST... A GLORIOUS FUTURE

The textiles sector is one of the oldest industries in India, with a history dating back to several centuries. Out of the many products exported from India in the medieval ages, the share of textiles was significant and important. The Indian textiles and apparel industry is extremely varied, with the hand-spun and hand-woven textiles sectors at one end of the spectrum, while the capital intensive sophisticated mills sector at the other end of the spectrum. The decentralised power looms/ hosiery and knitting sector form the largest component of the textiles sector. The close linkage of the textile industry to agriculture (for raw materials such as cotton) and the ancient culture and traditions of the country in terms of textiles make the Indian textiles sector unique in comparison to the industries of other countries. The Indian textile industry has the capacity to produce a wide variety of products suitable to different market segments, both within India and across the world.

- Largest exporter of cotton yarn and 2nd largest producer of cotton producing 36 million bales/annum
- 2nd largest textile exporter after China; constitutes 5.2% the total global exports worth USD 772 billion
- 2nd largest exporter of jute goods, contributing USD 0.33 billion to the total exports
- 2nd largest fiber producer, producing 13% of the total world's textile fiber
- 2nd largest producer of silk, contributing 18% to the total world raw silk production
- 2nd largest textile manufacturing capacity globally
- 59% of the world's loom capacity - highest market share
- 24% of the world's spindle capacity

SCALING HEIGHTS. NAVIGATING THE FUTURE.
