Sub: Webinar on "Impact of the Reciprocal tariffs imposed by the US" on April 11 (Friday) - 12 p.m. onwards

Dear Member,

TEXPROCIL is pleased to invite you to a Webinar on the "Impact of the Reciprocal Tariffs Imposed by the US", scheduled for Friday, April 11, 2025, at 12:00 p.m. The session will be held virtually via Zoom.

Background

On April 2, 2025, U.S. President Donald Trump issued an Executive Order aimed at rebalancing global trade by introducing an additional ad valorem duty on nearly all imported goods. This move is part of a broader strategy to address the United States' widening trade deficit and includes a reciprocal tariff plan targeting several countries, including India.

Objective of the Webinar

In light of numerous queries received from our members regarding the implications of these reciprocal tariffs—especially in comparison with competing countries—this webinar aims to provide clarity and insights on the issue. The session will include a brief presentation by TEXPROCIL followed by an interactive discussion, where participants can raise questions and share their perspectives.

Registration Details

Interested members are requested to register by filling out this Google Form (click here) by April 9, 2025. The Zoom link will be shared exclusively with registered participants.

We encourage your active participation in this important discussion and look forward to your presence.

Regards,

Dr. Siddhartha Rajagopal
Executive Director
