Editorial

By Dr. Siddhartha Rajagopal, Executive Director, TEXPROCIL

Dear Reader,

Welcome to this combined issue of the fortnightly TEXPROCIL E-Newsletter! In the interim, apart from the other activities, the Council was involved in organising the coveted TEXPROCIL Export Awards F.Y. 2020-2021 which resumed its grandeur as an 'in-person' event almost after two years. The Export Award function, was followed by the Council's flagship RBSM Event - Ind-Texpo 2022 being held at World Trade Centre in Mumbai. This Issue also offers picture coverage on some of the other events of the Council like Visit to Poland and Signing of MoU with MSME Ministry that took place during this period.

TEXPROCIL Export Awards 2020-2021 was held on 23rd August, 2022 at The President Hotel in Mumbai. The gracious presence of Shri Upendra Prasad Singhji, Secretary, Ministry of Textiles as the Chief Guest along with the Guest of Honour, Smt. Roop Rashi, Textile Commissioner, Ministry of Textiles inspired us all. From the Council's side, Shri Manoj Patodia, Chairman, along with Shri Sunil Patwari, Vice Chairman and myself coordinated the event proceedings.

The 'Trade Promotion' column of this issue presents a report on Ind-Texpo, the flagship RBSM event of TEXPROCIL was held from 24-26 August World Trade Centre, Mumbai with 50 Indian suppliers and 80 buyers from 20 countries attending the Show to explore business opportunities in cotton textile exports.

The 'Trade Facilitation' column titled 'Rewarding Excellence in Exports' presents the chronology of important events that were a part of the export awards program.

The Awards have acquired a prestigious status due to the inventiveness seen in the present scheme to encourage large as well as small exporters within the overall scheme. The categories, such as Highest Global Awards, Special Achievement Awards and the Awards for Highest Employment Generation (employment overall, for MSMEs, and for Women) continue to reward achievements in quantum growth, innovation and job creation in the textile sector. The coveted Awards popular as the "TEXPROCIL Awards", have helped inculcate a spirit of healthy competition between the exporters who keenly vie with each other to bag these Awards.

This edition focuses on the excellence in exports achieved by our member exporters despite the various challenges brought in by the uncertain times.

TEXPROCIL congratulates all the winners for their meritorious performances.

The 'Trade Update' column in this edition brings to you a report by Shri Murali Balkrishna, Joint Director, TEXPROCIL on the Virtual B2B Connect for Indian Exporters organised by the Council in association with Stratech India and supported by Embassy of India in Guatemala on 29th June, 2022.

The event saw an overwhelming response through active discussions from both India and Guatemala with aims to increase bilateral trade in textile products between the two countries.

Friends, it is our endeavor in this Newsletter to provide informative content which will serve as important resources for members to navigate their businesses.

The popular, 'Policy Talks' section of the Newsletter regularly features updates on recent changes in policy and procedures announced by the Government.

Chairman's Page

By Mr. Manoj Kumar Patodia, Chairman, TEXPROCIL

Dear Friends,

The 68th AGM of TEXPROCIL was held in a physical mode on September 30, 2022 and marks the end of my tenure as the Chairman of the Council. I remember the time when I assumed the office, the following months saw the outbreak of the pandemic. During those times, we undertook efforts to usher in a new era of digital initiatives and online activities like - Webinars, Seminars, one-to-one Sourcing Meets on digital platform, Export Awards in hybrid mode and a lot more.

The idea was to effectively reach out to both the Government and our members, overcoming the restrictions on holding physical event and other mobility challenges brought in by the pandemic.

TEXPROCIL Exports Awards 2020-21

After almost two years of the pandemic, TEXPROCIL Export Awards function for 2020-21 were held in Mumbai on August 23, 2022, in a physical mode. It was indeed a matter of great pleasure for me to welcome in person, all our guests to the prestigious event. Secretary, Ministry of Textiles, Shri Upendra Prasad Singh ji graced the occasion as the Chief Guest and Smt Roop Rashi, Textile Commissioner was also present as the Guest of Honour.

All the Award Winners are deserving of our praise as in spite of many challenges affecting global supply chains and the subsequent demand, they remained focussed on marching ahead and withstood all the headwinds to emerge as 'winners'.

Reflections on the challenging tenure

Friends, the two years I spent as Chairman TEXPROCIL have been truly memorable as we faced many challenges and also dealt with them effectively. I recall beginning my tenure on a positive note, with slight signs of export recovery appearing on the horizon during the month of December 2020. Along with the trade recovery, the economy too was coming out of a deep slowdown mainly on account of the severe lockdown imposed in the wake of a spreading pandemic.

Going forward, the country's strong raw material base, the indomitable spirit of textile players and commencement of vaccination drive did offer some respite. Yet issues such as uncertainty on RoDTEP rates, rising price of raw materials continued to affect future growth prospects. The problem of acute shortage of containers triggered by lower levels of imports, led exporters to default on timely shipments. This also caused a steep rise in the freight rates which further aggravated the problem. We alerted the Government with regard to the "opportunity loss" that the delays in shipment caused thereby severely affecting export growth.

Duty on Raw Cotton

The Budget 2021-22 announcement saw the imposition of Basic Customs Duty of 5%

along with 5% of Agricultural Infrastructure and Development Cess (AIDC) on imports of raw cotton, which came as a "bolt from the blue" for the textile industry.

The Council left no stone unturned and represented the matter in all possible forums. We are glad that after continuously pursuing at various levels of the Government, on April 13, 2022, the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (CBIC) exempted Raw Cotton from customs duty for import of cotton albeit up to September 2022.

TEXPROCIL Sub-Committees

The turbulent times required us to devise a strategy, whereby we had to reach out to our members especially in textile clusters and other groupings around the country through individual contacts and our product subcommittees. The product subcommittees at TEXPROCIL played a vital role by exchanging views on sectoral issues in a collective manner.

As a first step in this direction we appointed new Chairmen of sub-committees for cotton madeups, fabrics and yarn. We are glad that the subcommittees, newly constituted during my tenure, are being led by veterans and stalwarts who are at the helm of affairs and experts in their respective domains. These Sub-committee Chairmen along with the active members have been able to come up with suggestions on likely solutions to resolve the common issues in the best interest of the industry and continue to contribute actively towards the cause of exports.

Advancing with New Regulations

Friends, at recently held Annual Meeting of ITMF in Davos, the European Commission (EC) shared a presentation on their programme initiated earlier to implement the strategies for promoting 'Sustainable and Circular Textiles'. Under this programme, the EC has proposed to make it mandatory for every product sold to the EU region to comply with the principles of Sustainability, Circularity and Traceability.

Not just in the EU but across the world, sustainability has gone beyond the use of just organic materials and efficient processes in the textile and clothing sector. It advocates many principles such as - resource conservation, guarding against the use of various chemicals and harmful substances, adopting newer methods of manufacturing, which do not hamper the environment and utilize natural resources.

The idea is to help in not only sustaining the textile industries but the eco-system as a whole. Keeping this in mind, the Council has constituted a Subcommittee on Sustainability and sincerely hopes to become future ready in this regard.

Cotton Development Programme

The Government has recently embarked on the cotton development initiative that led to the formation of the 'Textile Action Group' (TAG) under the able Chairmanship of Shri Suresh Kotak to coordinate with stakeholders in the Cotton value chain, including CCI, CAI, CITI, SIMA, TEXPROCIL, etc. on important matters as listed below:-

- (a) TAG has been assigned the prime objective of doubling India's cotton productivity and production and ensuring the sufficient availability of cotton for consumption in the country before being exported in the world.
- (b) Special Efforts are also being undertaken through public-private-partnership (ppp) model in initiatives like Branding 'Kasturi' the ELS variety of Indian Cotton; promoting long staple varieties of cotton like DCH-3, Shanker 6; and reviving the extra-long staple 'Suvin' variety of cotton.
- (c) To address the sustainability requirement of the Global brands and provide recognition to Cotton grown in India, TEXPROCIL has entered into an agreement with Control Union (CU) - India's leading certification agency, to deliver General Certificate of Conformity (GCC) for Indian Cotton across the value chain. The program is expected to benefit the entire textile value chain from ginners to processors to manufacturers.

With increased attention and support of the Government, as the other market dynamics automatically fall in place, we will be able to make our products competitive and grow our share in the world markets.

Export Promotion

The Council continues to uphold the challenge of export promotion in a "mission mode" to achieve our sectoral targets in often turbulent times. Time and again we critically evaluated our approach and advocated activities that would contribute to meeting the diverse needs of our membership and the industry.

For our membership, we ensured the consistent redressal of their grievances and articulated our arguments to the policy makers well supported by data, whether it was the continuation of the ROSCTL Scheme or promoting WTO compatible schemes like PM MITRA Parks and PLI Scheme for textiles.

It is a matter of great satisfaction that many of our suggestions / representations on various policy matters have been well accepted and have drawn positive responses proving beneficial to the members.

Ind-Texpo, the flagship RBMS event of TEXPROCIL

As travel resumed, we have commenced our export promotional activities leading to resuming of physical engagement with importers for sampling, negotiating prices, taking orders, etc. I am happy to share that the second edition of "Ind-Texpo, the flagship RBMS event of TEXPROCIL was held from 24-26 August World Trade Centre, Mumbai with 50 Indian suppliers and 80 buyers from 20 countries attending the Show to explore business opportunities in cotton textiles and their blends.

The event provided the international audience with an optimum setting and platform for exchanging information and strengthening business relationships. A major highlight and feature of the Ind-Texpo Show were the B2B Meetings conducted in an exclusive B2B Area in 3 focused sessions organized region-wise. Indian sellers had the opportunity to meet all the overseas buyers and discuss orders during these B2B Sessions.

The Council's calendar of events for the upcoming year provides the gist of activities planned to be undertaken in the upcoming year. However, I sincerely request all our members to send in their suggestions for inclusion of new markets and trade events that hold the potential for growth of our exports.

Trade Revival & Growth

Despite the all-round performance in the last year, exports of Cotton textiles have been sluggish during the current year. The quick estimates data released by the Indian Ministry of Commerce & Industry, shows that during the current fiscal FY 2023, the exports of cotton yarn/fabrics/made-ups, handloom products etc. from India have declined by (-) 16.57 per cent in April - August 2022, as compared to the same period last year. Report on TEXPROCIL organised 2nd edition of RBSM Ind-Texpo 2022 at WTC, Mumbai (24-26 August, 2022)

In case of any queries related to this report on the Council organised RBSM event, Ind-Texpo 2022, please write to Shri Shailesh Martis, Additional Director, TEXPROCIL on email: shailesh@texprocil.org “Ind-Texpo, the flagship RBSM event of TEXPROCIL was held from 24-26 August World Trade Centre, Mumbai with 50 Indian suppliers and 80 buyers from 20 countries attending the Show to explore business opportunities in cotton textiles and their blends.

Experts believe that the Indian market was yet recovering from the pandemic-induced slump of the previous year, when it got stuck with supply-side disruptions that included factors like non-availability of raw material in sufficient quantities for conversions and value addition, surge in global commodity prices, higher freight rates, and demand-side disruptions that includes sluggish pace of recovery in demand, with orders diminishing even from the traditional markets like the EU and the USA.

Amidst activities to revive trade and economy post the pandemic situation, we also led the enormous task of promoting Indian Cotton textiles globally along with consistent redressal of exporters' grievances and resolution of impacts on trade at the local and global levels alike.

Friends, as I demit office, and hand over the charge to my successor at the end of the 68th AGM of the Council being held on 30th September, 2022, I am happy to note that the industry is seriously considering adoption of principles of sustainability, circularity and traceability with the help of modern technologies.

Marching towards 70 years

Friends, at times fast paced growth makes us forget the linkages between the various segments - fibre to yarn, yarn to cloth, cloth to finished articles - each output becomes the input for next stage. Closer integration makes us stronger and a powerful entity for the world.

At times, it also means creating a win-win situation for all by influencing the government decisions through policy advocacy. As I pen down this last column for all of you as Chairman, I express my sincere gratitude to all the members for their cooperation and support in enabling me to discharge my duties.

Particularly, with a vast diversity of segments across the value chain, the Council's members representing their own value segment have supported each other, staying as one unified force. TEXPROCIL has come a long way to complete 68 years, since it's establishment in 1954 and will be moving to another milestone of 70 years and beyond in the next two years.

The present year did see some of us have a difference of opinion over the policy matter and representation to the Government in the Council but then we discussed and agreed to stay united and take this Council - TEXPROCIL to new pinnacles of success in the times to come.

On that positive note, I would wish each one of you 'All the very Best for your future endeavours...'

Report on TEXPROCIL organised 2nd edition of RBSM Ind-Texpo 2022 at WTC, Mumbai (24-26 August, 2022)

A major highlight and feature of the Ind-Texpo Show were the B2B Meetings conducted in an exclusive B2B Area in 3 focused sessions organized region-wise. Indian sellers had the opportunity to meet all the overseas buyers during these B2B Sessions.

About Ind-Texpo 2022

The Ind-Texpo Show was inaugurated by the Secretary, Textiles Shri Upendra Prasad Singh on 24th August with Smt. Roop Rashi, Textile Commissioner in attendance. Prior to the inauguration, the Secretary held a closed room interaction with 15 international buyers from 12 countries to understand global market conditions.

The participants at the interactive meet were from Australia, Egypt, Turkey, Thailand, Brazil, Slovakia, Iran, Malaysia, Dominican Republic, Poland, Kenya, Portugal, Bangladesh and Sri Lanka covering those sourcing yarn, fabric, home textiles across fibres - cotton, poly, viscose among others. There were representatives from the Hospitality sector too with most of the buyers reflecting the need for sustainable, organic and recycled products.

While the Australian representative looked forward to dividends of India Australia FTA, better Quality Assurance and Communications from the Indian suppliers and recycled Cotton products, the Polish Hospitality sector seemed poised to strengthen its relationship with our Made-ups suppliers. The Malaysian buyers were looking to shift from China sourcing while Iran was looking forward to sourcing more of home textiles. Kenya and Tanzania on the other hand were looking to shift sourcing to India from Pakistan.

During the inauguration of the event held physically after a gap of two years, Secretary Textiles briefed the participants on policies and programs to fill the structural gaps in supply chain while he urged the buyers to look at a wide and unique array of handlooms that India produces, as part of their portfolio for sourcing.

On the evening of the first day i.e. 24th August, the Council organised a Networking Dinner for the overseas guests and the exhibitors. Indian dance forms of various kinds were presented reflecting the rich culture and traditions of India.

Exhibitor Profile

Exhibitors showcased all types of yarns, fabrics and home textiles with an array and range of organic and recycled products.

Visitor Profile

The overseas buyers were a well balanced mix of manufacturers, wholesalers, hoteliers and agents. Garment makers looking for finished fabrics were also part of the delegation.

Over 90 percent of all visitors and exhibitors were very happy and satisfied with their participation in the trade show expressing an interest to repeat their representation at the next edition of Ind-Texpo.

The feedback from both the exhibitors and visitors showed that orders booked at the 3 day event were about US$ 6.4 mn (approx. Rs. 51 Crs) while future estimated orders in negotiation phase were about US$ 58.7mn (approx. Rs. 470 Crs). Given the current global market dynamics for cotton textiles, the order booking position at Ind-Texpo was a reflection of encouraging business prospects in the coming months.

India - Guatemala Virtual B2B Connect - Report

Shri Murali Balkrishna, Joint Director, TEXPROCIL informs about the Virtual B2B Connect for Indian Exporters organised by the Council in association with Stratech India and supported by Embassy of India on 29th June, 2022

The Council in association with Stratech India, a company promoting exports of Indian Products in Central America and the support of the Embassy of India organized a Virtual Business Connect for Indian Exporters with buyers of textiles in Guatemala on 29th June 2022 at 7.30 p.m. IST

The main objective of the virtual connect was to understand the Warehouse Proposal as mooted by Stratech for the benefit of member exporters of TEXPROCIL as well as to promote the Council's flagship Reverse Buyer Seller Meet, 'Ind-Texpo 2022'.

10 Indian companies and 14 companies from Guatemala participated in the virtual event. H.E. Ambassador of India to Guatemala, Honduras and El Salvador, Dr. Manoj Kumar Mohapatra welcomed all the participants to the show. The Ambassador spoke of the importance of Central America, both as a market for India as well as the connect that it provides to the South American and North American continents. He spoke about the friendliness of the people and business community towards India and of common values of family, friendship and democratic principles that bind us together.

TEXPROCIL Chairman, Shri Manoj Kumar Patodia introduced the Council and its role in promoting exports of Indian Cotton Textile products for the benefit of the buyers from Guatemala. The Chairman stressed on the importance of Guatemala to India since it is the largest importer of Cotton Textile products in Central America and is also the largest economy. He invited the buyers from Guatemala to participate wholeheartedly in the Council's flagship event 'Ind-Texpo 2022' and expressed confidence that the virtual connect, followed by our RBSM will lead to more business being transacted between the two countries.

The profiles of the 10 Indian companies were presented in Spanish by the moderator Ms. Monica Batres including products exported, countries exported to, contact details and export turnover. This was followed by the Council presenting 'Ind-Texpo 2022' to the businessmen from Guatemala highlighting the key advantages as well as benefits to the selected buyers inviting their applications.

A brief Q & A session was taken in which the main point raised by the buyers from Guatemala was the higher cost of imports from India on account of the large transit time as well as freight costs.

Mr. Carlos Rivers and Dr. Rajesh Ingle then proceeded to present the Warehouse incubation project to the Indian participants. Located in Escuintala (40 kms from Puerto Quetzal- Port of landing), Tecnopark is a gated facility that aims to provide exclusive space of 50 sq mts for each company/brand to stock their products.

Tecnopark will also put in place a sales team, an operations and accounts team to manage the business as an extended arm of the Indian companies in Guatemala for an annual fee.

The Tecnopark team is trying to develop the project as a bonded warehouse in which case the entry of goods into Guatemala will be duty free for onward exports to the other countries in the continent. This will take 2 to 3 months to materialize.

India - Guatemala Virtual B2B Connect - Report

The main objective of the virtual connect was to understand the 'Warehouse Proposal' as mooted by Stratech for the benefit of member exporters of TEXPROCIL.

Stratech, since 2010, connects Indian companies with companies in American Continent/ Caribbean and Vice versa to support business and trade. In today's challenging environment Stratech's intelligence can assist in making a rapid entry in the market, and with complete transparency allows the buyer and seller to communicate directly if required.

The Indian participants raised a few pertinent questions regarding the project as below:

1. What is the import duty on Cotton Yarns, Fabrics and Made-ups in Guatemala?
2. Who takes ownership of the exported goods in Guatemala till such time that it is sold to a buyer in Guatemala? Who will pay the import duties at the time of imports? What will be the documentation process and elements of documentation?
3. What is the process to be followed for remittance of Forex for goods sold, especially the smaller lot sizes since the bank charges per transaction would be very high?
4. What are the import duties in the nearby markets of El Salvador, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua and Belize if the goods were to be reexported to buyers in these countries?

5. What is the expected average period of holding the goods at the Stock & Sales point? For what duration will the goods be kept at the Stock & Sales point if it is not sold? What is the return to origin policy in case goods remain unsold and what are the cost implications?
6. What are the prevalent credit terms operating in the textile industry in Guatemala?

Dr. Rajesh Ingle and team will revert back on the queries. Dr. Ingle later thanked the Indian participants for taking time out to attend the virtual meet.

Will RBI be able to manage Rupee's roller coaster ride?

After a non-event kind of July futures expiry, the USDINR pair was seen catching a roller coaster ride. The weaker dollar, probable 5G spectrum inflows, and RBI's selling side intervention resulted in a breakout of crucial support of 79.70 and 79.50. The bearish momentum was seen extending up to 78.50 in a matter of just 3 days, without much changes in fundamentals. The story doesn't finish over here. The pair rebounded sharply by 1.30/- from the bottom in the next couple of days to recover its losses fully. The credit of the same goes to importer's rush to cover their payables at a discounted Dollar-Rupee rate and a sudden escalation of US-China tension over Taiwan.

Rightly standing at the 79.50 mark, what could be the outlook on the pair? Will it again move towards 78.50 or it will give a break above the 80 mark? Let's take the help of fundamentals, tactical and technical, and draw a conclusion on the outlook.

Fundamental side: On the domestic side, a recently released preliminary trade figure suggests further widening of the deficit to a record level of $31 billion. That means a daily requirement of $1.40 billion (considering 22 working days). Inflation on the other side is out of the RBI's band of 4% (+/- 2%) for consecutive 6 months in a row, and pressurized RBI to go for a sudden rate hike by 40, 50 and 50 bps in just matter of 3 months. However, considering the global slowdown, the RBI has pointed out that they could slow down their normalization process.

$Bn	Mar-22	Jul-22	Sell off
Forwards	66.0	30.8	35.2
FX Reserves	606.0	572.0	34.0
Futures	-0.5	-8.0	7.5
Net USD sold by RBI			76.7

Against this, if the Fed remains aggressive on the path of hiking rates like in the 1980s and goes for a QT as per the commitment, then it would trigger another round of bloodbath in equities and thus demand for USD will rise. Further, interest rate differential will go in favour of USD, and further outflow could be seen from EM and India too. On the geopolitical front, apart from the never-ending Russia-Ukraine war, the market has got another theme- the US-China clash over Taiwan. One cannot ignore the fact that Taiwan Strait has serviced 88% of the largest container ships in 2022. Supply chain issues were just starting to improve, but these issues could resume supply chain disruption anytime. In the energy pack, crude oil prices are trading at a multi-month low; however, Saudi is busy hiking rates for the US and Asian buyers at a record high from September, sending no relief message for net oil importers like India. Summing up in short, fundamentals seems vulnerable for the Rupee over the short and medium term.

Tactical side: Apart from fundamentals, one needs to also consider the tactical part. This originally includes RBI's intervention, however, the recent 'U-turn' in FPIs flows could also be considered the same. Through all means of intervention like forward, futures, and spot market; RBI has tamed down the depreciating move. From Apr to July 2022 they have used almost $76.7 billion to keep Rupee in the middle of the

Will RBI be able to manage Rupee's roller coaster ride?

EM performance list. On the FPI flow side, after 9 straight months of outflow, July registered a minor inflow of Rs. 1974 crores and in August we can observe an inflow of almost Rs 16,000 crores. It would be interesting to watch how FPIs carry their investment ideas over the next couple of months when the Fed is expected to raise their rates by 75 bps.

Technical tone: As can be observed over a daily chart of the USDINR pair, it has been trading on a bullish note with higher highs and lows. Over the short to medium term, the pair could find support near the 78.35-78.50 zone and the final strong support lies at 78.00 levels. Whereas, resistance is located at 80.05, which if crossed we can see a move towards 81.00 -81.50 levels.

OUTLOOK

The recent appreciating move towards 78.50 was not supported by any drastic changes in fundamentals. Thus, the currency again depreciated up to 79.80 levels in a matter of just 2 working days. From here on, what will matter the most would be USD demand domestically and globally. If US inflation remains glued near an all-time high then US DXY could move towards 107.50 to 109 levels over the medium term as the probability of a higher rate hike in 2022 will be increased. Further, a fall in oil prices may not translate into positive news in Rupee as it is still above RBI's tolerance levels. Though RBI has used their reserves to calm down the nerves and FIIs have started investing their funds in August, but still overall fundamental, tactical, and technical suggest further depreciation in Rupee towards 80.50 levels over the near term and 81-81.50 over the medium term. On the contrary side, the 78.50 to 78.00 zone will act as a crucial zone to watch.
