Dear Friends,

The World Trade Organization, in its latest quarterly World Trade Outlook Indicator (WTOI) has expressed concern regarding the global trade weakness in view of the heightened trade tensions between USA and China.

Nearer home, the export data for the month of April 2019 released by the Ministry of Commerce shows that Cotton Textiles (Yarn, Fabrics, Madeups) recorded a decline of around 6 percent during the month reaching a level of US $ 844.22 million as against exports of US $ 896.50 million during April 2018. While the decline recorded for a single month is too early to predict a trend, we need to nevertheless be watchful and increase our efforts in the coming months.

US-China trade war

As has been well documented, the United States and China have been engaged in several rounds of negotiation on various trade issues, including meetings in March, April, and May of 2019. However these talks have not made much headway resulting in the US imposing an additional 25 percent duty on products from China imported into the United States on a trade value of US $ 200 billion. These products also include 1811 tariff lines covering HS Chapters 50-60 for textile and textile articles.

TEXPROCIL has undertaken a quick analysis of the items in HS Chapter 52 (under the purview of the Council). The analysis reveals that India can benefit, if steps are taken to increase our share of cotton textile exports to the USA. For instance, the Council's analysis of the import data of top 25 HS lines of Cotton Fabrics (under HS chapter 52) shows that imports of these items into USA from all sources in the year 2018-19 was valued at US$ 737.85 million; out of which imports from China was US$ 225.8 million and from India was US$ 72.94 million.

Within the basket of cotton textiles being imported in to USA, top 5 types of fabric viz. Printed fabrics, Denim fabrics of cotton / mmf blend, Grey fabrics, Dyed / yarn dyed fabrics and Twill bottom weight fabrics offer a huge scope to increase exports. We appeal to all our members to take advantage of the present market condition in USA and explore opportunities in increasing export of cotton fabrics by participating in the India pavilion being organised by the Council at Texworld Apparel Fabrics Fair, scheduled to be held at New York, USA from 25 to 27 July 2019.

New Hopes

With the government headed by Hon'ble Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi getting re-elected in a spectacular manner, we can all hope for not only continuity in the ongoing reforms but also expect that some of the unfinished tasks will get completed, especially in relation to the export sector.

Some of the issues which need urgent consideration of the Government include – availability and cost of credit, devising WTO compliant schemes to incentivise exports, conducive regulatory framework for attracting investments, and strengthening the ongoing drive for “ease of doing business”. Other major issues are – to cover cotton yarn and fabrics under ROSCTL Scheme and to extend 3% interest equalization scheme to cotton yarn.

Export Facilitation

The Government has constituted a Committee under the Chairmanship of Shri O.P. Dadhich, Chief Commissioner of Customs, IGI, New Delhi to recommend steps to be taken for “Export Promotion & Facilitation”. The Council has submitted various points to this Committee with regard to Exports, Customs procedures, Shipping, Banking and GST.

Some of the important issues that have been highlighted are the high charges being recovered from the exporters by the Shipping lines; problems faced by the exporters in getting bonds under Advance Authorization and EPCG schemes cancelled at the Customs despite EODCs issued by the Regional offices of DGFT; Caution lists; etc.

The Council has also suggested that the DGFT should issue MEIS in those cases where exporters have ticked “N” while filing shipping bills instead of “Y”. On GST, the Council has taken up issues relating to refund of differential duty drawback under “Transitional Drawback Scheme” from July 1, 2017 to September 30, 2017; refund of ITC on Capital goods on exports under LUT; and inclusion of input services as part of Net ITC for the purpose of computation of refund on account of inverted duty structure. Subsequently, the Council also followed up the matter with the Chairman of the Committee and also with officials in the Department of Revenue in Delhi on May 21, 2019.

An important suggestion, among others, which was also made in these meetings was to exempt domestic purchases made by 100% EOU from the payment of GST. The Council has submitted a Dossier in which all its proposals have been incorporated along with supporting documents. The Committee has assured the Council that all its suggestions will be covered in the Report being submitted to the Government.

I also take this opportunity to compliment DGFT for organizing EODC camps at many of its Regional offices to help the exporters to close all the pending cases under the Advance Authorization and EPCG schemes. I am sure many of our members have benefited from these camps. We are also grateful to DGFT for dispensing with the physical issue of the MEIS scrips and making it completely online. I would urge DGFT to issue the EODCs also online at the earliest. We hope that our suggestions are included in the 100 day plan of the new Government.

Way forward

Friends, as the new Government assumes office, the Reform Agenda 2.0 should focus on turning India into an export and investment driven high growth economy. At present, as pointed out by the experts, the three key engines of the economy which are witnessing a slowdown are viz. private investment, consumption and exports. These issues need to be resolved by addressing problems relating to tight real interest rates and liquidity concerns. Apart from this we should also quickly move in to exploit the opportunities brought by trade war to boost India’s competitiveness. Being the third largest exporter of Textiles and with the largest exporter vacating space, we need to go all out to position ourselves strategically to benefit from the arising opportunities.

US hikes tariff on China
- An Opportunity for Indian T&C Sector

USA has imposed an additional 25% duty on products of China imported into the United States on a trade value of US $ 200 billion. These products also include 1811 tariff lines covering HS Chapters 50-60 for textile and textile articles.

TEXPROCIL has undertaken a quick analysis of the items in HS Chapter 52 (under the purview of the Council). The analysis reveals that India can benefit if steps are taken to increase our share of cotton textiles exports to the USA.

Advantage to India
An analysis of Chapters 50-60 which are part of the list of notified US $ 200 billion imports from China and on which additional tariff has been increased to 25% (See Table 1) reveals that India is at an advantageous position due to tariff hike on China's Textile Products and presents an opportunity to increase our share of Textiles exports to the USA.

Textile’s Share in US$ 200 bn business

Of the US$ 200 billion import, Textile account for about US$ 4 billion or 2% of the trade. Total import of Textiles into USA, in the year 2018-19, from all sources account for US$ 15.668 billion, i.e., about 25% of import of textile into USA will become expensive by 25%.

India’s export of textiles (HS 50 to 60) to USA in the year 2018-19 was valued at US$ 1.79 billion, thereby offering a vast scope for increasing India’s market share at the cost of anticipated decline in market share of China.

Total import into USA (from all sources) under each of the HS Chapters from 50 to 60 and import from China & India is given at Table 1. It may be observed that, of the total 1,811 HS lines of Textiles at 8 digit level, HS chapter 52 (cotton, yarn and fabrics) alone cover the largest number of HS lines with 520 lines, accounting for an import of US$ 912 billion from all sources, US$ 234 million from China and US$ 102 million from India.

US hikes tariff on China – An Opportunity for Indian T&C Sector

520 HS lines under HS chapter 52 that attracts 25% additional tariff include, cotton & cotton waste, cotton yarn, sewing thread and fabrics (See Table 2).

It may be observed that, China’s share is more in fabrics and less in yarn and cotton waste to USA, whereas, share of India is the other way with less share in fabrics and higher share in yarn and cotton/cotton waste. This is the right time to undertake quick marketing initiatives to increase export of cotton fabrics to USA to take advantage of possible decline in market share of China.

Top 25 HS lines of Cotton fabrics (under HS 52) imported from China into USA account for 97% of cotton fabrics import, which will attract 25% additional tariff. Clearly, there is a scope for increasing export of cotton fabrics from India to USA.

While looking at type of cotton fabrics being imported into USA, top 5 types of fabrics are:

- Woven cotton plain weave dyed fabrics > 100 < 200 gsm
- Denim fabrics of Cotton / mmf blend, > 200 gsm
- Woven cotton plain weave fabrics > 100 gsm
- Denim fabrics of Cotton > 200 gsm
- Woven cotton unbleached plain weave fabrics < 200 gsm

Members are requested to take advantage of the present market condition in USA and explore opportunities in increasing export of cotton fabrics by participating in the India pavilion being organised by the Council at Texworld Apparel Fabrics Fair, scheduled to be held at New York, USA from 25 to 27 July 2019.
